

Exemption Contract Requirements

A written contract between a Dealer/Distributor or Contractor licensed with the West Virginia Contractor Licensing Board and West Virginia Manufactured Housing Construction and Safety Standards Board and Sub-Contractor must be executed on the exemption contract form prescribed and approved, see enclosure, by the board.

An addendum may be added to a written contract after the execution date of the original contract. The addendum must make specific reference to the original contract document and be signed and dated by both the Dealer/Distributor or Contractor and the Sub-Contractor.

The Sub-Contractor performing the work described in the written contract will:

- Be required to be licensed properly with the WV Contractor Licensing Board.
- Not be required to obtain a license with the West Virginia Manufactured Housing Board.
- Not be required to pay the assessment fee to the recovery fund.

The Dealer/Distributor or Contractor will:

- Be responsible for the work being performed by the Sub-Contractor.
- Be responsible for any payment from the recovery fund resulting from the Sub-Contractor's work.
- Be responsible for keeping a copy of the approved contract in the consumer's file, (which is subject to inspection).

The following West Virginia Contractor License classification is required to perform installation of a manufactured home:
